Nineteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time - August 9th, 2026

American Saint Series: St. Rose Philippine Duchesne

Rose Philippine Duchesne was born in 1769 into a wealthy family of traders in Grenoble, France. When she was eight years old, she heard a Jesuit priest preach about the missions in Louisiana and her heart was kindled for this work, but due to her young age, it had to wait. She received a rather good education for her era and at 17 joined the Visitation sisters, which is a cloistered order. Her father was against this decision because of the growing hatred towards the Church during the French Revolution.

Her father had good foresight because the French Revolution led to the closure of the convent and Rose was sent home. While home, she cared for the sick and the poor until peace was reached between the Church and the French government in 1801. Rose Philippine purchased a house to revive her convent, but it failed. She joined a different religious community and in 1818, the bishop of Louisiana asked for French-speaking sisters to serve the Church. Sister Rose and four others volunteered for this mission.

They landed in May and journeyed north to St. Charles, MO and founded the first free school west of the Mississippi, however they struggled to learn English. She was 50 years old, and learning a new language was more difficult than imagined. The ideal she had of missionary life was given a reality-check.

From St. Charles, they moved to the larger city of St. Louis and founded a house there and in New Orleans. She also attempted to found a house in Grand Conteau, LA. This is (providentially) the town in Louisiana I am at for retreat at this very moment! The 150 mile journey between New Orleans and Grand Conteau was treacherous. She contracted yellow fever and presumed that she would die.

However, she survived and continued to serve along the Mississippi River. In 1841, she finally realized her dream to serve the Native Americans and was sent to Kansas. However, this also went poorly as she struggled to learn the native language, and the hardships of life were too much for her at this stage in life. So, she returned to Missouri.

In her final years, she had to fight to keep various religious houses open as her religious community attempted to consolidate resources and begin new apostolates.

Her story is relatable because she didn't have success after success. Often her missionary efforts failed and she had to learn hard lessons. May we persevere just as she did.

A couple of parish announcements: August 15 is not a Holy Day of Obligation. However, we'll have a vigil Mass for the Solemnity of the Assumption on Friday, August 14 at Immaculate Conception Church at 7:30 p.m. followed by our candlelit procession through Botkins.

Second: Immaculate Conception Church was dedicated on August 12, 1962, so we'll observe its dedication during Mass on August 15 and 16 at Immaculate Conception. This will mean that there are different readings for Immaculate Conception next weekend.

Lastly, there will be a Day of Grace for the back-to-school special on Tuesday, August 18 at Immaculate Conception. Confession and Adoration will be available from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Sincerely,
Fr. Sean Wilson

Club JOE

The Way of Surrender – Most of us spend our lives striving – striving for success, security, and control. But beneath our restless efforts, we discover a quiet truth: peace begins with surrender. The Way of Surrender invites readers to discover that truth in their own deeply personal way through the situations and circumstances of their lives. In this profound spiritual guide, Vic Clesceri explores what it means to let go of fear, release the illusion of control, trust God's timing, and live from a place of deep interior freedom. Each short chapter is a practical meditation on how to live a surrendered life through the daily events of our lives. Surrender is not weakness, failure, or defeat. It is the highest expression of trust. It is a path to peace and the antidote for our anxious age.

Join us for this book study every other Wednesday beginning September 9th at 6:30 p.m. in the St. Joseph Adult Room. Books will be supplied and there is no cost to attend. To register, call Lori Wilson at 419.738.2115 by August 26th.

Scammers

Please be aware that scammers have been known to impersonate our priests with a text/email that says something like: "Hi, please return my text when you get it. I have a favor to ask." or "Are you available?" Their text/email will probably even be signed with the name of one of our priests. If you engage with the scammer, they will likely ask for iTunes gift cards. Our priests will never send messages like this. If you're ever questioning a message, please call the parish office before responding. Ignore the message (or report it as a "phishing message") and say a prayer for the scammer.
