Twenty-Fourth Sunday in Ordinary Time - September 13th, 2026

American Saint Series: St. Damien of Molokai

We have another foreign-born missionary for our American saint today. This one is rather well known. He was born in 1840 in Belgium and given the name Joseph de Veuster. He was the youngest of seven children. At the age of 13, he was forced to quit school to work on the family farm, but when he was 18, he decided to become a priest.

He entered the religious community, the Fathers of the Sacred Heart of Jesus and Mary, and took the religious name "Damien." His religious superiors didn't think that he was a good candidate for the priesthood because of his lack of education. However, he had a decent grasp of Latin because one of his brothers taught him. He pursued the priesthood and completed his studies.

He volunteered to be a missionary, motivated by the great example of so many saints. On March 19, 1864, he arrived in Honolulu, and about two months later, he was ordained a priest. He served in various missionary stations in Hawaii, mostly serving the natives. It was a difficult situation because of the high mortality rate. It is believed that leprosy was brought to Hawaii in the 1830s or 1840s, and in 1965, the Hawaiian King and legislature passed a law to quarantine lepers to the island of Molokai. Unfortunately, there weren't enough resources to support the 8,000 lepers.

Four priests volunteered for the mission on Molokai and Fr. Damien de Veuster was the first one to arrive. Not only did he build a church and provided the Sacraments and catechesis, he also dressed ulcers, built a reservoir, built homes, made coffins, and dug graves. He wrote back to his brother in Europe, "I make myself a leper with the lepers to gain all to Jesus Christ."

Before Father Damien arrived, the leper colony was known for their gambling, alcoholism, and other vices. Things changed after Father Damien arrived. Under his guidance, basic laws were enforced, morale improved, farms were more efficient, and schools were established.

In December of 1884, Father Damien contracted leprosy after working with the lepers for 11 years. He continued to generously serve the residents of Molokai. He continued to celebrate the Sacraments and preach, and completed several building projects. On March 23, 1889, he was bedridden and died on April 15, 1889. In 1936, his body was returned to Belgium. In 1995, his right hand, which cared for so many sacramentally and physically, was returned to his original grave in Molokai. Father Damien, canonized by Pope Benedict XVI in 2009, is often known as St. Damien of Molokai. His feast day is May 10. During her life, Mother Teresa passionately advocated for the canonization of St. Damien of Molokai.

St. Damien is an incredible example of sacrifice and service. He fulfills the words of Jesus, "Whenever you did this to the least of my brethren, you did it to me." May St. Damien of Molokai intercede for us.

Sincerely in Christ,
Fr. Sean Wilson
